Support our '8 to 8' night nurses

We know most patients with a terminal illness would choose to die at home; unfortunately not everyone achieves that choice. That's why at Princess Alice Hospice we want to help more patients and their families stay together at this most difficult time. Our '8 to 8' night nurses offer end of life care for patients at home as well as vital support for the family. They help avoid the distress that an emergency hospital or hospice admission can cause.
